

Enabling Research and Practice Communication

During the project it has been demonstrated that there are some activities or actions that enable or facilitate the communication between researchers and practitioners. For example:

- innovation or creation of new knowledge
- solving a concrete problem
- strengthening collaboration, co-development
- discovering, exploring or developing inter-disciplinary perspectives
- strengthen the field in general
- having a concrete impact on policy

What do you think about this? Do you agree with all? some? Would you add some points?
